*Everything on earth has its own time and its own season.
There is a time for birth and death,
planting and reaping,
for killing and healing,
destroying and building,
for crying and laughing,
weeping and dancing,
for throwing stones and gathering stones,
embracing and parting.
There is a time for finding and losing,
keeping and giving,
for tearing and sewing,
listening and speaking.
There is also a time for love and hate,
for war and peace.*

- Ecclesiastes 3:1-8 (Contemporary English Version)

It's taken a while but it's finally starting to feel like autumn around Wilmington. (Not that it would bother me, mind you, if summer stuck around for a little while longer . . .) Back in Northern Wisconsin when October rolled around, the leaves were usually down and most mornings there was frost on more than just the pumpkins. This month was very much a preface to the first snowfall, which often happened in the first couple of weeks of November. You would figure that after almost nine years in Delaware, I would start to get the hang of how the seasonal transitions occurred in the First State. Unfortunately, like some "Pavlovian" experiment gone awry, I have been conditioned by the Midwest to expect colder weather to start much earlier than it does in the Mid-Atlantic region. I'm convinced that eventually I'll get re-acclimated to the seasonal timings of Delmarva; but, for the time being, I'll have to rely on the "AI Rokers" of the world to keep me straight.

In addition, I have always been interested in understanding the human personality as a window into one's inner being or soul. What I find particularly fascinating is how some fairly simple questions, that appear to be completely innocuous on the surface, can yield amazing insights into the deep places of who we are. For example, do you tend to sit in the same place every Sunday or do you move around? The answer to that question tells me a lot about your preference for change and how you choose to embrace it. Another question that I have asked (which ties us back to the main point of this article) is what's your favorite season of the year? The answers that I get from people often surprise me. So far, in my very non-scientific study on this question, I've drawn these conclusions from the answers that I have received in the past:

Spring – The people who like spring tend to get bored quickly with the status quo and are always ready for a new challenge. They see the glass as half full. They usually like to garden and are known as outside people.

Summer – These are the beach people and often are the “big kids” amongst us. Visions of school being out and previous summer vacations often come up whenever summer is mentioned. Elementary school children and elementary school teachers will generally choose summer as their favorite season.

Autumn – These are the traditionalists. They often love football or love the colors of the autumn forest. The predictability of nature appeals to them and they like that cooler weather that comes in these months. They generally appreciate stability. My mother is an autumn person.

Winter – This appears to be most people’s least favorite season. Winter people are inside people. They like warm fires and hot chocolate and snow and icicles. They often are happy to see the glass has something to drink in it. They are not necessarily traditionalists but they are not usually people that welcome change.

I am a summer person – mostly because I am a big kid and I fondly remember the summers of my high school and college years. Plus my birthday is in July and that means cake and presents, which are always good things.

Now before you accuse me of stereotyping and prejudice, let me explain something. I know that no generalization ever holds for everyone, nor should it. The reason that I like to ask this question is not see how often I am right but it’s to see how often I am wrong. You see the diversity of the answers that I receive is a good thing! It will often cause me to reflect upon how I view the seasons of the year and to reflect on how amazingly diverse the human creature truly is. Last time I looked at official statistics there were six billion different people all inhabiting this tiny globe, and I’m convinced that they are all individual and unique (even the identical twins). I tell you all this because it is central to what I believe as a Christian. There are no wasted parts and there are no wasted people. “There are many parts, but one body,” or to put it another way, “God doesn’t make junk.” Our Creator loves us too much for that. So embrace that diversity. Revel in the differences between us. Celebrate the tapestry that God has woven through all of humankind. And always, always, always choose love.

Blessing and Peace to you all,
Pastor Tom

KIDS' KORNER

Hi everyone! What a beautiful time of year fall is! The weather is finally getting cooler and fall is upon us.

PreK-K will be taking a look at Noah's adventure in the ark. The children will be making and filling an ark as we look at Noah's obedience and faithfulness to God. Finally, we'll find out the message of the rainbow. Come join the fun!

Grades 1-3 will continue our journey in the Old Testament of the Bible. Our studies will take us on a visit with Noah and Moses. We will continue to explore the books of Genesis and Exodus. We will utilize the Bible, music, role-playing, class discussions and crafts in our journey. October definitely will be a very busy month!

Grades 4 thru 8 will continue with Grapple – Why do I have to sit in the back seat? (God's call to sacrifice for our siblings); What if Jesus is a liar? (Jesus is always truthful); What if Jesus is a lunatic? (Jesus' style of religion); and What if Jesus is a loser? (Jesus is the biggest winner!)

Grades 9 thru 12 changed courses and began with a multimedia learning experience called "Jesus Did It" – we'll finish that up with studying Mark – Jesus encounters a sick person; Jesus encounters a seeker who wants to find out "What must I do to inherit eternal life?"; and Jesus encounters a sinner – when Jesus spoke with the criminals that were hung on crosses at his side during the crucifixion. We'll finish the month with the "Ten Tough Things" study – "Get off the Sidelines".

If you have any questions, please speak with our dedicated teaching staff!

PreK/K – Sarah Pasmore and Michelle Anderson

Grades 1 thru 3 – Marlene Johnson and Donna Chambers

Grades 4 thru 8 – Rob Anderson and Joe Tucker

Grades 9 thru 12 – Kristi J. Doughty and Annette Ott

MUSIC NOTES

Terri Weaver, Director

While I was on vacation in August, I found a PBS special about Dr. Wayne Dyer. He is considered by many a motivational speaker and by others a very spiritual man. I went to the bookstore the next day to purchase his book, Inspiration, Your Ultimate Calling. My goal was to determine my ultimate calling with God. The book was truly enlightening.

Dr. Dyer suggests you find your joy, your passion in life and you will determine your calling, your purpose with God. I know one of my great Joys is Music. Music I have shared as Director of Music Ministry at RPUMC and 100th Anniversary Committee, Chair.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank people for their willingness to serve and contribute to the Music Ministry. Thank You goes to: the chancel bells, chancel choir, and all special musicians. I have a special place in my heart for Jay Cummings as the passionate caretaker for the organ. (The pipe organ I truly enjoyed playing.) A special THANKS goes to the BMG group for all of their help moving equipment and preparing the Sanctuary for worship, especially when the bells played and to Harriet Ann for all of the secretarial support and last minute changes.

I hope you have enjoyed reading the newsletter articles as much as I have enjoyed writing them. But, this will be my last newsletter article to you. My last date as Director of Music Ministry is September 30th. Thank you for the opportunity to serve. I have truly been blessed.

Faithfully,
Terri Weaver

After almost three years of ministry together, we are saddened to be saying good by to our music director and friend, Terri Weaver. We greatly appreciate and thank her for the love, kindness, and gracious generosity that she has shown our RPUMC family. We will remember and treasure the good times we shared and the things that she has taught us. The Apostle Paul reminds us that love never ends and that we are never separated from the love of God through Jesus Christ or one another. Terri always will hold a special place in our hearts. We wish her well in her future endeavors and pray for God to continue to bless her music ministry.

News from Richardson Park Community Action Plan (RPCAP) September 2009

I again want to thank everyone for allowing me to serve as the Executive Director of RPCAP.

The first full month has been very exciting and rewarding to serve and meet our community members who we assist everyday and the volunteers who are here faithfully to assist our friends.

We will have a difficult year with the economy still trying to recover.

I also want to continue to reach out to our community to support RPCAP as you have done for over forty years. We are always in need of canned foods for our food closet program as well as linens, dishes, small appliances, knick- knacks, and toys for our Thrift Store.

Please welcome Jamie Daily, our Delaware Technical College Intern. Jamie lives in Bear, Delaware, with her Husband Eric and their three children. Jamie is able to prepare food stamp applications on-line for our clients, as well as all Community Service Functions at RPCAP. Jamie will be with us until December.

I would also like to welcome Harvest Christian Fellowship to our RPCAP Family. Pastor Meredith L. Griffin, Jr. and Co-Pastor Doris L.P. Griffin have been collecting food and school supplies for our Food Closet and look forward to assisting RPCAP with clothing as well. Harvest Christian Fellowship is located at 3813 Newport Gap Pike.

RPCAP has recently worked with Kim Heatwole of the Census Office to apply for a grant to provide our Cook Books to our Food Closet Customers. We look forward to working with the Census Office and providing assistance to our neighbors in the Official Census Count that begins in March of 2010. We will be providing updates as well as literature in the Thrift Store at RPCAP.

RPCAP will be providing Nu Legacy RX Prescriptions Cards for anyone who wishes to use them; they are good at many of the major Pharmacies in the United States. These cards are activated and ready to use. Some customers may see up to 75% savings on the price of prescriptions even if they have an insurance policy. Please come in and see if these cards can assist you.

RPCAP kitchen update: The Kitchen demolition and painting has been completed. Beverly Jackey from the Food Bank has assisted Clyde Nafzinger and me in refining the Design Lay-out. We will be looking for contractors to assist us in the project within the next month.

A special thank you to Pat and Frank Pugh for their kind assistance in obtaining the office furniture donation from Prudential Fox & Roach. We were able to replace a number of worn chairs and provide a new desk in the second floor office area as well as storage cabinets for RPCAP. I would also like to remind everyone that they can have their employers match donations to RPCAP. For additional information, please feel free to contact me at any time.

Again, I wish to thank everyone for this great opportunity to serve our community.

Donald H. Mulrine Jr.

LOTS OF FREE OFFICE FURNITURE DONATED TO CAP!!!

On September 10, 2009, Prudential Fox & Roach REALTORS/Trident donated the following items to the Richardson Park Community Action Program:

Desks, credenzas, bookcases, chairs, tables, file cabinets, shelves, a paper cutter, fax machine, refrigerator and many other items.

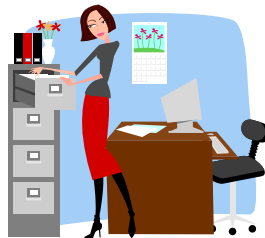

Our CAP building, located at 107 South Maryland Avenue, is getting a new face lift because of these generous gifts.

B & F Towing Company loaned CAP a truck to move the furniture, and volunteers helped to relocate everything. Eagle Crane Company offered to store items that could not be used right away - at no charge!

CAP is very grateful for these gifts. It will make their offices and work areas look professional and will enhance the efficiency of their operation.

A VERY BIG THANK YOU to Prudential Fox & Roach REALTORS/Trident, B & F Towing Company, Eagle Crane Company and to the many volunteers:

Clyde Nafzinger, E. J. Wright, Marvin Swain
Ed Ide, Bob Evely, Joe Tucker and Don Mulrine

Kids Café Mission Statement

Kids Café is a structured after-school Christian ministry committed to providing homework assistance, educational enrichment and recreational activities for the children of our community who are attending kindergarten through 6th grade.

Kids Café is set to begin another exciting year at RPUMC on Thursday, October 15, 3:30 to 6:00 p.m. and we would love for your children to participate.

Our goal is to enable each participant to enjoy recreation and special programming along with the all important homework tutoring component. Our structure continues to include a clearly defined set of behaviors. If a child is not able to follow these expectations, the end result may be the termination of his or her participation in Kid's Café.

Please complete the registration and Medical Authorization forms and give them to Marlene Johnson or bring them to Kids Café on Thursday, October 15. If you have any questions about this year's program, please call Marlene Johnson at 328-5806 or Janet Dickerson at 494-5247.
